

volunteers in 1848 to punish the Indians who had taken part in the Whitman massacre. It is said that the howitzer blew up killing two men by the explosion. The fragment was found by Gilbert Blue on the Keylor ranch near Whitman Station.

---

Gift of Books

Mrs. Sabina Morton, widow of the late General Charles Morton, U. S. A., has presented to the University of Washington library a number of books from General Morton's library. They are mainly technical volumes and will be of distinct service to the Department of Military Instruction.