

Announcement

- ¶ The feature of this issue which merits special mention is the first installment of "Washington Geographic Names." It is the purpose to publish all the names of geographic features in the State, for which information can be gathered as to the name's history, origin and meaning. Anyone who observes an error in the portion published or who knows additional facts is invited to communicate at once with the Washington Historical Quarterly, University of Washington, Seattle.
- ¶ Another dip is made into the Hudson's Bay Company archives. Mr. Clarence B. Bagley edits a few important letters pertaining to the Indian wars of 1855-1856.
- ¶ Friends of Jack Splawn of Yakima will be pleased to find in the Book Reviews Department evidence that his book has at last appeared.