

Announcement:

- ¶ Mrs. Cornelia A. P. Comer makes one of her characters in the Atlantic Monthly declare: "I know a thousand arguments! The thing I am in need of is converts!" So also do history workers in a new field need converts.
- ¶ The pioneers are passing away all too rapidly. Let us brighten the twilight of their lives by showing real and sensible interest in the record of their achievements.
- ¶ If everyone who sees this Quarterly will speak of it to another, not only will the monotonous talking of weather and automobiles be broken but the way may be opened for adding some strength to a good cause.
- ¶ Suggestions for improvement in the Quarterly are always welcomed.
