Announcement

- ¶ Readers of Judge Howay's article in this issue will realize how deeply interesting the New Vancouver Journal has proved to be among those familiar with the history of the Pacific Northwest. Copies of the journal in separate form may be obtained from the Printing Department, University of Washington, Seattle, at one dollar each.

- ¶ The announcement that Professor Frank A. Golder is to lecture in the Summer Session of the University of Washington should appeal to all interested in the history of the Northwest and especially of Alaska. He has recently returned from his work of research in the archives of Russia.

- ¶ History will be a prominent theme at a number of the large meetings to be held in San Francisco during the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

- ¶ Doctor Charles M. Buchanan, whose plea for the Indians of Puget Sound appears in this Quarterly, is one of the best known Indian Agents in the country.
