Announcements

- ¶ Out of respect for the wonderful spirit of cooperation among the librarians of the Pacific Northwest, the leading portion of this issue is devoted to historical papers presented at their recent Seventeenth Annual Conference.
- ¶ Judge F. W. Howay, of New Westminster, British Columbia, presents some contemporaneous records of the loss of the Boston on Vancouver Island in 1803. He has made that topic a special study for a number of years.
- ¶ Through the courtesy of T. C. Van Epps, long of Olympia, now of Los Angeles, California, there is presented an interesting document of 1856 relating to the Indian War.
- ¶ The most significant feature of the Book Reviews in this issue is the number of volumes devoted to Indian subjects.
- ¶ The rededication of the Alki Point monument is an unusual event as shown in the News Department.
- ¶ Attention is called to the binder's title-page and the index in this issue, completing Volume XVII.
