

tutions were neglected by the legislatures of the two States in 1881-1883.

In 1924, Mrs. Villard published an attractive little book entitled William Lloyd Garrison on Non-Resistance. One of the luring sentences is: "The company that frequented our house was so delightful that I never realized until I was fully grown that my father's devotion to the cause of the slave made him socially ostracized." In addition to the daughter's tribute the book has a chapter "What I Owe to Garrison" written in Russia, January, 1904, by Leo Tolstoi. There is also in the book a fine chapter: "William Lloyd Garrison As Seen by a Grandson" by Oswald Garrison Villard. The whole Garrison spirit is revived by a frontispiece quotation from the great editor's Salutory in the first issue of The Liberator, January 1, 1831: "I am in earnest—I will not equivocate—I will not excuse—I will not retreat a single inch—and I will be heard."

Judge Howay in Hawaii

Colonel C. P. Iaukea, Chairman of the Captain James Cook Sesqui-Centennial Commission, writes from Honolulu an expression of gratitude for having accredited Judge F. W. Howay of New Westminster, B. C., as a Delegate from the Washington University State Historical Society. He was primarily the Honorary Representative of the Government of Canada. Among Colonel Iaukea's praises of Judge Howay was: "He also contributed a considerable amount of historical material which we did not possess in our Archives."

A Contract with B. L. E. Bonneville

The Midwest Review, published at Caspar, Wyoming, recently reproduced in facsimile a contract entered into by David Adams with Capt. B. L. E. Bonneville to serve him faithfully during a trip "to and over the Rocky Mountains." The document reveals a number of points interesting to those who are studying the life and work of General Bonneville.

The contract is dated at St. Louis, Missouri, on February 22, 1832, at the beginning of the great venture. It is a printed form with spaces in which are written the names of both parties, time of service, dates, and rate of compensation. The form was one undoubtedly in common use by fur traders and hunters of that time. The name of René Paul was written in as the agent
