

The Washington Bicentennial

The State of Washington is in line with the entire Nation in preparations for celebrating the Washington Bicentennial year of 1932. Many schools, patriotic societies and other organizations are forwarding appropriate plans for programs and especially for tree-plantings. The State that bears the name of our National Hero is now alive to the significance of this important year in the history of America.