- ¶ Professor C. S. Kingston, author of the article "Buffalo in the Pacific Northwest," has been a welcome contributor to former issues of this publication. He is Vice President of the State Normal School at Cheney.
- ¶ Mr. T. C. Elliott of Walla Walla, highly respected as an authority on Northwestern history concludes the series on "David Thompson's Journeys in the Pend Oreille Country." That the region covered is interested has been shown by Editor Wolf of the Newport Miner reprinting each of the articles as they have appeared in this Quarterly.
- ¶ Mr. W. M. Underhill, former graduate student in the University of Washington, has carried on research work in Montana recently as shown by his article "The Northern Overland Route to Montana."
- ¶ Alfred Tunem has also worked in Montana. His Master of Arts thesis in the University of that State is being published as a continuing article in this Quarterly under the title, "The Dispute Over the San Juan Islands Water Boundary."
- ¶ The Document in this issue is an extract from the Diary of Doctor William Fraser Tolmie, father of the present Premier of British Columbia. It was copied and partially edited by Edward Huggins thirty years ago. Mr. Huggins and Doctor Tolmie were brothers-in-law, having married daughters of John Work, Chief Factor of the Hudson's Bay Company.
